Study tour to McLeod Ganj, Dharmsala tea factory and Kangra area

The Department of Economics organized a study tour of Dharmsala and Kangra from March 1- to March 5 2019.

Himachal Pradesh is one of the states that has been performing very well in the HDI, and a visit to this area helped the students to understand the reasons for its outstanding performance.

The study tour provided the students an opportunity to see a variety of economic activities, it gave them a chance to see how tea is made and marketed; explore the role of the government in development and business development.

The three day - four night tour covered an exploration of McLeod Ganj and Upper Dharmsala, including a visit to the Tibetan settlement and monasteries and the Church of St John in the Wilderness. We visited the Dharmsala Tea Company and factory, a 135 year old factory and saw how tea is made and marketed today. We also visited the Dharmsala Cricket Ground and Kangra Fort.

An Overview

College of Vocational Studies is the first choice of most students interested in the vocational subjects. It is amongst the premiere educational institutions of the country that is also globally recognized for its academic and extra academic excellence sustained over almost fifty decades. The pioneering achievements of students and alumnae provide the best measure of its success.

College of Vocational Studies is accredited by NAAC (National Assessment and Accreditation Council) with Grade A making it the top ranked college at University of Delhi that offers a good range of Undergraduate courses in Liberal, Management and Vocational studies.

Principal's Note.....

Greetings from the College of Vocational Studies, an institution with almost fifty year's tradition of exuberance, creativity, and hundreds of success stories. The College of Vocational Studies has been graded as NAAC Grade A with a unique status of the premier institution for Vocational education. The College strives for excellence with the combined dedicated efforts by the faculty, students and the non-teaching staff. The College of Vocational Studies is known for year-round curricular, co-curricular and extra-curricular activities year after year contributing to the holistic development of students.

The College of Vocational Studies presents kaleidoscopic myriad activities of forty plus students' societies, cells, clubs and wings. It has been the main endeavor at the College to bring out the best in our students. All Student societies - 16 Departmental Societies, 11 College-level Societies, 10 Cultural Societies, 04 Students Project initiatives, are the lifeline of the college that add vibrancy to the ambiance of the institution. The College gives exposure to students by frequently providing an opportunity of interaction with high achievers, celebrated authors, thinkers, journalists, management gurus, ideologues, academicians, leading experts, practitioners and illustrious personalities from government, non-government and international fields.

I congratulate the teachers-in-charge, conveners, nodal officers, P.Os., mentors and all the faculty members for their dedicated and enthusiastic involvement in enriching students' experience at the College of Vocational Studies. Special acknowledgment credits to the official Social Media Champion team of CVS (SMCCVSDU) for bringing together all student entities, their activities and events in CVS on one platform & under one umbrella. The Newsletter of CVS 2019-20 is a specimen of their untiring efforts to chronicle all the achievements of the College.

Seminar - Thought and Activism: Perspectives on Gandhi

The Department of History, College of Vocational Studies, University of Delhi, commemorated 150th birth anniversary of Mahatama Gandhi by organizing a two-day National seminar, Thought and Activism: Perspectives on Gandhi, on 25th -26th September, 2019. The seminar discussed Gandhiji as an idea, ethos, ideology and a continuous debate between past and the contemporary. It explored different perspectives on Gandhiji's views on politics, religion, caste, education, environment, gender, culture, commerce and human rights by academics, activists, columnists, journalists, artists, editors research scholars, freelancers, grass root activists and practitioners inspired by Gandhian philosophy in the context of then and now. The Seminar was organized into four panels: Gandhi and Political Activism, Gandhi and Social Cultural Ethos, Gandhi and Education and Gandhi and Human Rights.

It was one of a rarest kind of experience for the students as they got an exclusive opportunity to attend the lectures and interact with the eminent historians, thinkers and activist like Prof. Ramesh Bhardwaj, eminent Gandhian and Director, Gandhi Bhawan, University of Delhi, Dr. Varsha Das, Prof. Mridula Mukherjee, Nikhil Dey, Prof. Salil Mishra, Prof. Avijit Pathak, Prof. Vasudha Pande, Prof. Rakesh Batabyal, Dr. Amrit Kaur Basra, Prof. Neerja Singh, Prof. Amit Mishra, Dr. Vasant Nirgune, Dr. Sanjiv Kakar, Dr. Sailaja Gullapalli, Avyakta, Pankaj Shukla, Dr. Arjumand Zaidi, Sourav Dutta, Sachin Nagar, Bishwajeet Mookherjee and Vinay of Loknaad

Foundation. Their lectures/narratives/ presentations/songs were thought provoking, fascinating and enthralling. Gandhian thought and activism whether then or now concerns issues related with dignity, freedom, equality, solidarity and democracy. Gandhian message of peace, equality and empowerment ingrained in Indian ethos and cultural systems. No doubt there doesn't exist an alternative to peaceful activism of Gandhiji.

VIIth Dr. S. Radhakrishnan Book Club Meet

The Dr. S. Radhakrishnan Book Club of The Time Travellers had organised VIIth Book Club Meet on 27th January, 2020. The book in discussion was 'The Argumentative Indian' by noble laureate Professor Amartya Sen. The book club meet entailed a dialogue between Dr. Anu Satyal, an economist, researcher, scholar from Cambridge University, England currently working in the College of Vocational Studies as Assistant Professor and a renowned historian, scholar, writer novelist and commentator Professor Anirudh Deshpande currently teaching at the Department of History, University of Delhi.

The dialogue between the resource persons was a perfectly erudite melange of both historical and economic interpretations of the book. Professor Anu Satyal gave the economic perspectives - the concepts of public policy, welfare state, need of reforms, governance paradigms and the role of the State in creating conditions of a goodlife for people where they have options to enhance their capabilities. According to Dr. Satyal, Amartya Sen is an economist first and the book has been written with an economist's concerns, later the issues of culture and philosophy emerge. The book questions the state policies and its ramifications and probes into ancient, medieval times further into modern and contemporary India and invokes the readers to argue, analyse and ponder.

Narration - Dastangoi - Dastan-e-Jallian

In commemoration of Martyrdom Day, on 30th January, 2020, Reverie, the Cultural Union of CVS and National Services Scheme, CVS jointly organised “Dastan-e-Jallian” presented by Ms Ainee Farooqui and Ms Nusrat Ansari and directed by Mahmood Farooqui.

Dastangoi is a 13th century Persian storytelling art form which reached its zenith in the Indian sub-continent in the 19th century. In the present, Dastangoi was revived by historian, author and director Mahmood Farooqui in 2005. Ainee Farooqui and Nusrat Ansari both are the keen enthusiast of history, heritage and culture. For Ainee and Nusrat, Dastangoi is a medium by which

History can break out of classrooms and reach to a wider audience. After a moment of silence in memory of the martyrs Ainee and Nusrat, two accomplished performers, in white attire, presented a riveting Dastangoi narration of the Indian freedom struggle. Eloquent narration and spellbinding performance of the events of Jallianwala Bagh ignited the memories of Jallianwala Bagh massacre tragedy and evoked the feeling of nationalism.

Dr. P. L. Malhotra Memorial Lecture Series - II

On 12th February, 2020, the second Dr. P.L. Malhotra Memorial Lecture delivered by Professor B. P. Sahu on the topic " Making of Regions in Indian History" was an engaging lecture on the history of Regions and regional histories as well as cross linkage between the two. The talk focuses on the shifts in the historiographic gaze on the concept of the historical region and its multiple meanings. It emphasises that the sense of shared historical tradition and common culture leading to some kind of felt community or affiliation in a spatially distinguishable and culturally identifiable space evolves historically. Regions emerged as a consequence of the gradual convergence of historical forces, including language, art and culture. While regions shape and are being continuously reshaped by the trans-regional/pan-Indian, they are also constituted by the interplay of the sub-regions and localities. In spite of the different regional traditions and their varying trajectories of transformation; interactions across regions contributed to the forging of a common pool of ideas, values and symbols that went beyond the specific regions and was distinctly pan-Indian. The interactions within and between regions helped in the making of a composite culture.
